in this book jeremy kim criticizes current korean and asian american homiletical strategies for their lack of a theological point of view on social suffering he argues that preachers must develop an alternative theological homiletical viewpoint on social suffering one that has pastoral and prophetic approaches these two approaches offer people a refuge and a voice not only in the church community but also in the larger social community thus the author suggests that preachers adopt the biblical lament highlighting its dual tasks of compassion the pastoral dimension and resistance the prophetic dimension the author who is a non western asian american preacher also incorporates east asian philosophical and hermeneutical research on ren a positive element of confucianism into his argument he applies this core concept of confucianism to the preacher s homiletical strategy toward social suffering thus the author proposes that korean preachers should recover ren which contains sincere compassion for others as well as a voice of resistance that reveals unjust social structures as the cause of social suffering and expresses both within uri we the community in living with the sermon readers will find a friendly companion to the preaching life with humor personal stories theological musings and practical signposts for those who live with the sermon robert hoch yidokodilona explores the highs and lows of the preaching life you will learn not only techniques for preaching but also how the life of the preacher is haunted by holy things there is according to robert a wink and peek to the preaching life some playful mischief some mystery and yet in a practical spirit down to earth signposts to help along the way whether you have been in the pulpit for many years or have just begun the journey this work will add to your wisdom and joy in the preaching life christian worship is always undergoing change as it adapts to particular contexts and concerns this collection of essays explores ways 1 that liturgical change happened to address particular historical and theological concerns 2 that worship and preaching are currently undergoing transition and 3 that aspects of worship are in need of transformation in order to address primary issues of our time with a focus on environmental and ecological concerns spacial attention is paid to the role of the sacraments and to preaching with an emphasis on the need to connect worship with daily life these essays show readers ways that liturgical renewal worked in the past as well as offer a persuasive case for continual renewal that responds to key issues in our contemporary lives we in mainline churches are uneasy maybe even scared why are our voices not heard after all we are the reasonable christians the updated christians the respectable ones who have dominated the cultural landscape since colonial times this book presumes that trying to reverse the loss of our traditional status in society is both futile and beside the point what is called for when we find ourselves in a state of crisis is to rediscover the big picture the christian hope projected on a large screen this requires the courage to revisit the sources from which all christian hope springs rediscovering their life giving power that power rises from the counterintuitive affirmations of the gospel represented in christ's incarnation his healing the afflicted his raising the dead his vulnerability his cross resurrection and universal restoration acts 3:21 preaching and worship that embodies and lifts up the hard parts the life giving parts is neither fundamentalist nor an exercise in nostalgia it is rather evidence of confidence in the triune god who makes the unknowable known the good shepherd promised my sheep hear my voice i know them and they follow me john 10:27 and when they do they will

what does it mean for music to be considered local in contemporary christian communities and who shapes this meaning through what musical processes have religious beliefs and practices once foreign become indigenous how does using indigenous musical practices aid in the growth of local christian religious practices and beliefs how are musical constructions of the local intertwined with regional national or transnational religious influences and cosmopolitanisms making congregational music local in christian communities worldwide explores the ways that congregational music making is integral to how communities around the world understand what it means to be local and christian showing how locality is produced negotiated and performed through music making this book draws on case studies from every continent that integrate insights from anthropology ethnomusicology cultural geography mission studies and practical theology four sections explore a central aspect of the production of locality through congregational music making addressing the role of historical trends cultural and political power diverging values and translocal influences in defining what it means to be local and christian this book contends that examining musical processes of localization can lead scholars to new understandings of the meaning and power of christian belief and practice the summer sermons have been delivered in the presbyterian church of eagles mere pennsylvania over a period of fifteen years when someone first arrives in eagles mere for the summer people ask how their winter has been winter meaning the whole time that has elapsed since the previous summer in the author's case winter means nashville tennessee where he has lived since 1965 when he joined the faculty of vanderbilt divinity school retiring after thirty eight years winter thoughts consists of autobiographical reflections on three topics lives theologies and politics the lives are those of peter and eva hodgson the longest section theologies describes the various influences and directions the author's work has taken in systematic and historical theology politics reflects on the decline of the liberal democratic consensus the whole is loosely held together by an underlying question how is god efficaciously present in history without violating the fabric of history western culture no longer has a broad christian understanding in fact much of what american media dishes out is pantheistic or anti religious sociological research indicates that a multitude of beliefs have crept into christian understandings of faith this situation is not new as early as the fifteenth century erasmus asserted that the greatest concern of his time was that christians were most often rank heathens when it came to their orthodoxy it is also apparent that attendance at sunday school vacation bible school and other gatherings has fallen at a great rate the author believes providing christian education in the context of worship is therefore the best opportunity for reaching believers with historical elements of faith a twenty four part lectionary based catechetical curriculum is provided for worship with it congregations can dwell in a sermon series that is surrounded by supportive full bodied worship this new handbook will be welcomed by all congregations using the revised common lectionary convenient and user friendly this one volume guide provides resources for the entire three year lectionary cycle including midweek festival days
